

It's time for public ownership

We Own It campaigns for public services for people not profit – whether that's the NHS, water or energy, council services or care work, the railways or the Royal Mail.

Public services belong to you, me and everyone
We pay for them, we use them, we own them.

With our small team, we work hard to:

Win victories

We campaign to stop government plans for sell offs and outsourcing. We Own It helped to stop the privatisation of Network Rail, the Land Registry and NHS Professionals.

Make the case for public ownership

Public ownership is popular, successful and would save us money, while privatisation keeps failing. We've shared our message on Channel 4 News, Sky News, Radio 4 and in the Mirror, Guardian and Financial Times.

“ It's great people like you exist! We need to give public ownership a strong new positive image, showing that these days things can be done better & more efficiently for the benefit of people. ”
